

Every year larger number of students graduates from universities and colleges around the country. Some of them go on to pursue higher studies. The vast majority, though, aspires to make a mark in the growing IT industry. As can be expected only the top scorers from the best colleges walk away with the best IT jobs during campuses. The others often end up being underemployed or, even worse, unemployed.

NIIT is today the most trusted brand name in IT education and has training alliances with world technology leaders like Microsoft, Cisco, IBM, ORACLE, EMC, Intel etc and strong placement partnerships with IT majors.

NIIT are announcing the Job Fair that is scheduled for college students.

Student will get attention from the top employers in IT and we are confident that they will be able to succeed in reaching the job always dreamt for. So, do join and be a part of NIIT's Job Fair 2012.
